Someone Else Lyrics

When I'm in my own head
Things seem to stop making sense
Cognitive thoughts useless
Defenses I'll never shed

All the signals and signs
Are out the window
Everything that I know
Spins out of control

And thats when I reach for the bottle again
And that when I stop hanging out with my friends
I turn into someone that I never meant to be

And its fucking crippling
And its fucking lonely
And its fucking killing me

I'm really good at making the people that I love cry
And want to die
But I can't stop the feeling thats building up inside
Even though its a lie

And thats when I start isolating again
And thats when my morality is starting to bend
I turn into someone that I never meant to be

And its fucking crippling
And its fucking lonely
And its fucking killing me

And thats when I lose everything that I love
And thats when I truly stop giving a fuck
Theres no light at the end of this tunnel I can see

And its fucking crippling
And its fucking lonely
And its fucking killing me
